

Pirates for a Day 1-2L

Captain Muderest

Once upon a time there was a pirate called Captain Muderest. Everyone thought he was a good pirate because he was. But one day he didn't come. He was stealing treasure. He started to be bad but nobody knew why he was being bad. He had learned it from a little boy named Jeb. He was very bad. The little boy was the friend of the captain and the crew. The little boy said, "Maybe I could be a captain one day?" "I don't think so!" "Why?" "Because you still have a lot of things to learn." "Like what?" he asked the captain. "Fighting, walking the plank, not being nice of course and more, but you will do it one day."

Blackbeard

Once upon a time a long time ago there was a pirate called Captain Blackbeard. He had no crew but he had a ship. One day he had found a crew and Captain Blackbeard knew he would be a captain from this day forward. He had a lot of money but he always spent it. He always sailed the seven seas. He found ten million pieces of treasure. He loved treasure a lot. He had no wife, which was very sad.

Sea creatures

Eggs attached to seaweed.

All seahorses have curly tails.

Horses that live underwater.

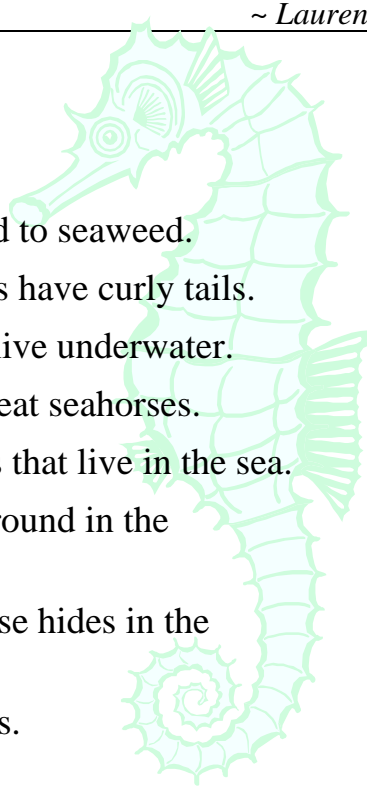

Orcas don't eat seahorses.

Real animals that live in the sea.

Swimming around in the currents.

Every seahorse hides in the seaweed.

Small animals.

Dolphins are cute.

On land they die.

Living creatures

People are friends to dolphins. Well some are!!

Henry's dolphins are my favourite.

In the ocean

Never hurt people

Some dolphins are fun

Captain Blood

Once upon a time there was a pirate called Captain Blood. He wanted all the treasure and gold because he wanted to be the richest pirate in the world. So he and his crew kept on trading and trading and trading. Once they had all the money, gold and treasure – jewels, crowns and jewellery, they had to fight Captain Blackbeard. It was on a Friday. Captain Blackbeard and his crew tried to steal all the gold and money they could get. They got half of the gold. Captain Blood was the best pirate.

Trouble

Once upon a time there were a group of pirates. The captain was called Captain Killer. He had a daughter and he made her into a slave. She loved the sea. Every night she went out and dived into the sea. She had lots of friends: the famous dolphin fish and 2 whales. One night a magic spell was cast on her. Red light swirled around her. She was turning into an ocean girl. The sun began to rise. She swam to the ship and pretended to have a shower. The pirates were up fishing. Her fish friends were swimming under the ship and the pirates caught the fish. The girl was horrified and she grabbed the fish and tried to dive into the ocean. But the captain was holding on to her hair so she threw the fish into the ocean and collapsed. When she awoke she was in the dungeon. She had an idea. There was seaweed underneath her clothes, which was very, very strong. There was a window very high so she threw the seaweed
